As I prepare to depart for Uganda next Wednesday, a need has arisen which I wish to share with those on my Uganda email list.

A pastor in the Atlanta area recently retired and has donated nine 50 lbs boxes of key books from his personal library to the library of the Westminster Christian Institute (formerly Westminster Bible College) in Uganda.

There is a team from a local Methodist Church going to Uganda in June and they are able to take five boxes as part of their team baggage. I am able to take one box as part of my bags. But the three remaining boxes will either have to wait until another trip, or go now as extra baggage for which the airline charges $200 per box.

Whether I take them now or wait will depend on you, my partners. If you are interested in sponsoring all or part of a box, please let me know by email and you can either mail a check or donate via credit card on the Network for Good.

Thanks,
Bob
